PRICE ROLL-BACK IS ASKED BY TRUMAN

Tremendous clouds of smoke choke the sky over Ludwigshafen, Germany, as great flames sweep the blast-shattered chemical plant of the I. G. Farbenindustrie works that sprawl along the Rhine. A series of mighty explosions ripped the plant, killing between 300 and 600 Germans and injuring at least 3,000. (Radio photo from U. S. Army newspaper Stars and Stripes, International Radiophoto)

Mystery Veils German Blast

LUDWIGSHAFEN, Germany, July 29—(AP)—German investigators of the greatest European disaster since the war brushed aside today Communist charges that the exploded Farben Chemical Plant here was making war material.

Police in this French zone Rhine city said 84 bodies were recovered and that about 250 persons were missing and presumed dead.

To the apparent death toll of 334, they added 2,000 injured.

Mannheim police across the river estimated the dead at between 500 and 800. U. S. army officials there said 6,200 were injured, many in Mannheim and other nearby American zone places by the terrific concussion.

The plant employed 22,000 workers. The explosion and swiftly spreading fires demolished or damaged 18 buildings. It was the largest plant in French occupation zone.

Communist newspapers in Berlin asserted the factory, a main stem of the once-great I. G. Farbenindustrie trust which operated 400 plants in Germany and 100 elsewhere in the world before the war, was making war material illegally.

German investigators who were at last able to approach the center of the destruction said preliminary findings indicated the disaster was touched off by ethyl chloride, an industrial chemical. (Please Turn to Page Two)

Record Crowd For Wednesday Is Out for Fair

Governor Is Coming For 4-H Show—Race Feature Is Friday

With a record Wednesday crowd on the grounds and another big crowd pouring through the gates Thursday morning, the Fayette County Fair is hitting its stride in real earnest.

Indications were that some new records will be established by the present exposition if the weather man continues to smile during the remainder of the week.

A large crowd was also present for the Wednesday night Fair. The grandstand was filled with an appreciative audience to see the variety show given by Klein's Attractions.

The Klein entertainers included a number of unusually good artists in their respective lines, such as juggling, acrobatics, rhythm girls, singing, dancing and mimics.

State Director of Agriculture, Frank Farnsworth was a visitor, and spoke briefly before the grandstand audience. With him was W. M. Stackhouse, member of the state board of agriculture.

Thursday night Governor and Mrs. Thomas J. Herbert will be present, and will witness the 4-H Club style and livestock show and sale. The evening will be climaxed by a fireworks display. Admission is free to the grandstand for these events.

Wednesday's racing card was up to expectations, and another good program was on for Thursday afternoon, as well as for both Friday and Saturday's Fair.

A large crowd watched the cattle, hog and sheep shows and the judging, while the various exhibition buildings draw large numbers of interested fair patrons, who are finding a great deal of interest and educational value.

The big midway attractions are day and night and all patrons are finding plenty of wholesome entertainment and amusement.

Nearly all Fair goers have expressed surprise at the magnitude of the exhibitions this year, where increased exhibits and midway attractions have pushed the Fair proper much farther out over the grounds.

The weather has been almost perfect. (Please Turn to Page Two)

Swooping Jet Plane Scrapes Top of Car

DAYTON, July 29—(AP)—Alton W. Williams of Columbus got some firsthand information on the speed of jet planes yesterday—in fact, more than he anticipated.

Williams, a Columbus insurance adjuster, parked his automobile outside Wright Field near here to watch the army planes land and take off.

A jet Lockheed Shooting Star, piloted by First Lieutenant Robert H. Hoover, undershot the field and swooped across the automobile, denting its top and breaking the windshield.

The plane then jumped a fence and pan-caked in a nearby field. It was badly damaged. Both Williams and the jet pilot escaped injury.

Dayton Strike Violence Eases

'Labor Holiday' Threatened, However

BY JOHN FRYE

DAYTON, July 29—(AP)—Pickets only marched and shouted "scab" today and no heads were cracked at the strike-bound Univis Lens Co. plant.

With 164 policemen watching in tight lines the expected violence failed to come when the eye glass company reopened its plant for the fourth consecutive day.

By 8:15 A. M. 700 production workers had entered—unmolested—but with jeers of "scab" and "skunk" following them.

Husky Lou Kaplan, national organizer of the striking CIO United Electrical Workers, Local 768, directed three picket lines despite a court order barring him even from the vicinity of the plant.

Kaplan said he had not been served with the order. He was still wearing a patch on his head and a fractured finger suffered in yesterday's melee was in splints.

The mass picketing followed an announcement by the Montgomery County CIO industrial union council it would throw its full weight behind the Univis strike.

William Snoots, secretary-treasurer of the council, said it had adopted the following resolution: "If the police brutality does not cease, this council will declare a labor holiday of all CIO units in Montgomery County to protest against their (police) brutality and to demand protection for their homes and communities away from the Univis plant."

The strike developed from a wage dispute when the present (Please Turn to Page Two)

Congress Cool To Revival of Old Controls

Seven-Point Bill Given Committee By Ex-OPA Chief

WASHINGTON, July 29—(AP)—President Truman asked today that Congress give him power to roll back prices on essential cost of living items to the level of prices in November 1947 or the nearest "appropriate period."

Mr. Truman sent Paul Porter, former OPA administrator, to the capitol with details of what he wants.

The president had asked generally for anti-inflation powers in his message to the special session of Congress.

Porter went before the House banking committee with the president's proposals prepared in the form of a bill.

The bill proposes also limited powers between now and June 30, 1950:

1. To ration a few products in short supply.
  2. Some authority over wages in the manufacture of items put under price control.
  3. Restoration of war time controls over consumer credit, such as restraints on installment buying.
  4. Direct authority to regulate changes.
  5. Authority to regulate bank credit.
  6. Strengthening of rent control with the administration to back under rent ceilings if it deems it necessary.
  7. Inventory control of scarce commodities which basically effect the essential industrial production, or the cost of living, and the right to ration them to industries.
- Porter told reporters that a separate bill will be sent to Congress proposing the restoration of the war time excess profits taxes.
- Even before the program was presented, Republican leaders had declared they would not approve such controls. Some said it would mean a "police state."

Stassen Named Proxy at Penn

PHILADELPHIA, July 29—(AP)—The University of Pennsylvania today named Harold E. Stassen as its new president.

Announcement of the nomination of the 41-year-old Minnesotan came after a special meeting of the university's board of trustees. Salary terms were not disclosed.

The nomination was made "pursuant to the unanimous recommendation of the executive board of the university."

An announcement of the university said: "The election of Governor Stassen will take place at a special meeting of the board to be held in September."

Dr. George William McClelland, now president of the university, will at that time be elected to the chairmanship of the university.

Cigarette Prices To Jobbers Raised

NEW YORK, July 29—(AP)—The American Tobacco Company has raised the wholesale price of Lucky Strike, Herbert Tareyton and Pall Mall cigarettes by seven-tenths of a cent a pack, effective today.

Retailers expect the action to result of a one-cent per pack increase for consumers.

Major brands of cigarettes now sell generally in New York for 20 cents a pack, including tax.

White Collar Rise

NEW YORK, July 29—(AP)—A pay increase of five per cent for approximately 3,800 salaried employees in the Bethlehem Steel Company's east coast shipyards was announced today.

Cool weather is to continue for a short time at least—the "Paint Valley Prophet" says so.

The "Prophet" dropped into the office Tuesday, and after handing me a stone much resembling a wild goose egg, he declared cooler weather is in store "because the moon is working its way northward."

"Whenever the moon works northward, look out for cooler weather," he declared.

Now then we will wait and see just how near the prophet is right.

Couple Remarried 30 Years After They Got Divorced

BOSTON, July 29—(AP)—An elderly couple—married 54 years ago and divorced 24 years later—are again man and wife.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Taylor disclosed yesterday that they were re-married in the Dudley Street Baptist Church last Nov. 5.

They displayed their second marriage certificate after an argument they had with a neighbor, Mrs. Florence Rogers, 71, was aired in municipal court. The Taylors charged Mrs. Rogers with assault and battery, but the case was dismissed by Judge Davis B. Keniston.

Taylor, 79, said he enlisted in the merchant marine corps while a young man and his wife, now, 75, divorced him because she thought he "was gone for good."

He said he traveled around for years. He added he served six years as mayor of Delphos, O., and later as a judge in the Ohio community.

Taylor came to Boston in search of his former wife in 1944. He found her a year ago, he said, and they were re-married.

He said he had not married during the 30-year separation. Mrs. Taylor did not say whether she had wed.

Ohio Youth Wounded By Highway Patrolman

SPRINGFIELD, July 29—(AP)—A state highway patrolman yesterday shot and wounded seriously a 16-year-old Youngstown youth whom he sought to question about a stolen car.

The shooting followed a chase, launched after the boy was reported to have driven away from a West Jefferson, O., gas station without paying for a purchase. Police said the boy had been armed with a revolver in a shoulder holster.

Daniel's Trial Now Set for Mansfield

VAN WERT, July 29—(AP)—Common Pleas Judge Eugene McNeill today ordered Robert Murl Daniels, 24, accused of six killings, released to Richland County authorities for trial at Mansfield on a triple murder charge.

Sheriff F. Roy Schaffer planned to go at once to Celina where Daniels has been held to turn the prisoner over to Richland County officials. Daniels was to be taken to Mansfield this afternoon and, under Judge McNeill's instructions, confined in a cell at the state reformatory pending trial.

Garment Workers Sign New Contract

NEW YORK, July 29—(AP)—Representatives of 47,000 garment workers and New York manufacturers of women's suits and coats have signed a new three-year contract which provides no wage increases.

An escalator clause, however, permits the union to demand higher wages every time the consumer price index rises five percent above the February 1948 level.

The agreement—the eighth successive settlement without a strike since 1926—assured completion of a quarter century of labor peace in the New York women's coat and suit industry.

Timken Raises Prices

CANTON, July 29—(AP)—Further price increases on certain products were announced today by the Timken Roller Bearing Co.

Alloy steel bars, blooms and billets will be boosted three to four per cent and seamless tubing four to 10 per cent.

LT. Gen. Willard S. Paul, chief of army personnel, held out that hope to draft-age men in reporting that 18,085 swapped civvies for GI duds during the first two weeks of July. This is more than half the 30,000 monthly average the army has figured it will need during the next year to boost its

New Tucker Car To Be Shown Here

A new Tucker car—the automobile of revolutionary design and engineering—is to make its first appearance in Washington C. H. Friday.

A four-door sedan is to be on display in the James Finney & Son showroom on South Main Street for the day, the elder Finney said.

The Tucker, with the engine in the rear, is no / in production, Finney said. He does not expect to have any for sale for more than a month, however.

He said the price would be between $2,400 and $2,500.

The car which is to be on display here, Finney explained, is being shown throughout this district. It probably will be here for only the one day, he added.

Demobilization Halted by Britain

LONDON, July 29—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin said today the British government is considering a halt in demobilization of its armed forces because of the tension between Russia and the west.

He told a hushed House of Commons a decision will be reached "in a few days."

Radio To Be Installed For Erie Railroad

CLEVELAND, July 29—(AP)—Installation of train-radio communication on 315 miles of main line track was announced yesterday by the Erie Railroad.

The system, allowing communication between trains and wayside stations, between locomotive and caboose, was operating on three divisions between Marion, O., and Salamanca, N. Y.

Yugoslavia Backs Tito

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, July 29—(AP)—Yugoslav Communists repudiated the Cominform's attacks on their leaders today by electing Premier Marshal Tito and his entire list of candidates to the party's 63-member central committee.

Newspapers did not give the actual vote which took place at the close of the Yugoslav party's historic conference. They did not mention whether the voting was unanimous.

Tito's reelection as party general secretary—the role Stalin fills in the Russian party—was expected momentarily.

Man Dies at Fair

WAUSEON, July 29—(AP)—Joel Brigham, 43, Toledo, died today from injuries received Sunday at Fulton County Fairgrounds during the first horse race in which he had ever ridden.

His horse stumbled and fell into the rail, hurling him into a utility pole. The horse died after the accident.

James Watson Dies; Former GOP Leader

WASHINGTON, July 29—(AP)—James Eli Watson of Indiana, Republican leader of the Senate during President Hoover's administration died today at the age of 84.

The colorful Hoosier served in Congress under eight presidents but was swept out of office by the Democratic landslide of 1932. He was stricken with internal hemorrhages on Oct. 12 and taken to a local hospital.

Watson maintained a law office here after leaving U. S. Senate.

One of the "old guard" Republicans of a by-gone era, he was elected in 1894 to the House, where he served for 12 years. He was elected to the Senate in 1916 and served until 1933.

Members of the family confirmed the news of Mr. Watson's death. They said he had died unexpectedly this morning.

Wealthy Manufacturer Shot From Car on Chicago Street

CHICAGO, July 29—(AP)—A single shotgun blast killed Nathan Gumbin, 56, wealthy paper carton manufacturer, in a daylight ambush in a busy south side street yesterday.

Gumbin's son, Owen, 19, who was riding in his father's car to their home, was not hit by the shot. It was fired by one of two men in a car which pulled up alongside Gumbin's sedan as he slowed for a traffic light at Pershing Road and Wallace Street.

$995 an Acre Paid for Farm

LANCASTER, Pa., July 29—(AP)—A 60-acre farm in Lancaster County, after referred to as the garden spot of the world, sold for $995 per acre.

"In 32 years as an auctioneer of farm sales, this is the highest price ever paid for a Lancaster County farm of that size in my experience," said Landis Duchon, after knocking down the farm to Amos N. Hoover of Ephra, Pa., yesterday.

The farm was put on the block by Martin Z. Burkholder. Bidding started at $825 an acre. The price was run up by two determined bidders.

Policemen James Webster, who was driving in front of Gumbin in Pershing Road, said the gunmen drove to the left of Gumbin's machine as he stopped for the red light. One of the killers poked a shotgun through the side window and fired. The blast shattered Gumbin's head.

As police hunted the assassins, they said members of the victim's family could give no motive for the slaying.

TB Mobile Unit Adds To Staff For Fair Survey

Response Is Good
As 698 Receive
Chest X-Rays

So many County Fair patrons have taken advantage of the tuberculosis mobile X-ray unit that the staff has obtained two extra technicians and the Business and Professional Women's Club has added to the number of their members doing secretarial work for the unit.

The turnout of 698 persons X-rayed so far is "extremely good" according to Paul Strevey, secretary of the Fayette County Tuberculosis and Health Association.

Strevey announced the unit would continue to stay open beside the Fair Secretary's office until 9:30 P. M. Thursday and Friday but would close at 6 P. M. Saturday.

"Those who take advantage of the free X-ray service are not just doing it for a joke," Strevey said. "But are serious in making certain that their health is good."

He emphasized that the benefit of the survey to Fayette County depends on the continued good response of Fair patrons.

Chorus Is Announced For Sunday Pageant

Chorus members have been announced for "The Light Eternal", Fayette County Ministerial Association's religious pageant as preparations are being completed for the production Sunday at the Fairgrounds.

Those who will sing in the chorus under the direction of Mrs. Ada Paul are Mrs. Myers Kimmey, Ruth Vance, Mrs. W. F. Peterson, Mrs. Darryl Weinrich, Connie Pyle, Clara Belle Robinson, Freda Coldiron, Olive Icenhower, Eleanor Leiter, Marian Osborn, Kathryn King, Marie Tucker, Sue Paul, Kathleen Davis, Mrs. Leonard Korn, Mrs. Fred Enslin, Mrs. Elden Bethards, Mr. Rankin Paul, Mr. W. L. Peterson, Mr. Bob Sanderson and Mr. Max Morrow.

Mrs. Russell Geibelhouse will be the pianist.

"The Light Eternal" tells the story of the events leading up to the giving of the ten commandments to Moses on Mt. Sinai. In addition there is a portrayal of the Nativity scene told by a grandfather to his children.

Six people will sing solos in the production. They are Marian Osborn, Olive Icenhower, Sue Paul, Richard Rankin, Hal Summers and Rankin Paul.

Brick Paving Now Being Resurfaced

Work of resurfacing the Chillicothe Road from the Fayette County line to the end of the brick paving in Ross County, is now under way, under direction of Frank W. Turner, project engineer of the state highway department, and formerly state highway engineer in Fayette County.

The resurfacing is similar to that laid on Court Street here recently, and will place that section of road in good condition for years to come.

Last winter many places in the brick paving gave way and required a great deal of patching. The joints in the paving also were uneven and the resurfacing had long been needed.

Mystery Veils Blast

No Americans were believed killed in the explosion.

Police said the plant's big administration building was destroyed so quickly that its occupants had little chance to escape. Heat and intense chemical fumes still barred firemen from the building.

Outwardly at least, the plant produced only industrial chemicals, pharmaceutical mixtures, dyes and similar products. But the Communist press in Berlin

Nowtopatinum Meet Wednesday Evening

Due to the Fair, only five members attended the meeting of the Nowtopatinum Campfire Girls Wednesday at 6:30 P. M. in the home of Miss Ethel Stewardson. Refreshments were in charge of Eileen Burnett and Connie Jean Smith.

Mainly About People

Mrs. Pearl Dowler of 127 West Elm Street entered Vera's Rest Home Thursday.

Bury Leroy, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Everett Jackson, had his right arm badly mashed and bruised in a washing machine ringer at his home Wednesday.

Mr. Robert Hanson was brought from Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, to the Carr Rest Home, Thursday, in the Gerstner ambulance.

Mrs. Warner M. Straley, manager of the Ohio Division of Aid for the Aged office in Fayette County, is attending a several days "workshop" for subdivision managers, being held in the State Office Building at Columbus.

Mr. Willard Wilson has announced that on September 1 he will start the construction of a new Gunnison modern six room, three bedroom residence with breezeway and garage, on a lot corner of High and Newberry streets.

claimed that the disaster was caused by illegal production of war materials.

The Russian-controlled national Zeitung, offering no proof, said that "under French trusteeship" the Ludwigschafen plant was producing explosives for rocket bombs. The plant is located in the French occupation zone.

Guarded comments of some Farber workers cast an air of mystery around the explosion. When French soldiers blocked German reporters from the plant several survivors commented: "No wonder. They've got something to hide."

Whether the survivors spoke from knowledge or mere assumption in the excitement of the explosion could not be learned.

Some persons who worked in the plant said they could not identify the products they were making.

The chain of blasts destroyed or damaged 18 buildings in the plant, which employed 22,000 workers. But the cause of the original explosion could not be determined until the wreckage cooled enough to permit investigation. And the devastation is so great that the cause may never be learned.

Late last night new explosions boomed in the flaming wreckage of the plant imperiling rescue squads trying to save trapped workers. Shortly before midnight flames still raged over a half-mile square area.

American and French soldiers with German firemen and police plunged into the blazing inferno to save trapped workers. Some wore gas masks. Others operated bulldozers to nudge paths through the wreckage.

Special efforts were being made to prevent the flames from reaching underground storage tanks, reported to contain highly volatile chemicals.

Miss Arbana Roush Tops Flower Display

Miss Arbana Roush dominated the flower show at the Fayette County Fair this year and the results of her many hours spent in her flower gardens were 14 blue ribbons, four red ribbons, and four yellow ribbons.

The flower exhibit, which also includes various arrangements, is located in the center aisle in the Merchants Building. Mrs. F. J. Ruble of Grove City judged the exhibits Wednesday.

Ralph Nisley is the director of the department and the exhibits were supervised by Mrs. Martha Braun, superintendent, and her assistants, Mrs. William Buchanan and Mrs. Ruth H. Hopkins.

Dayton Strike Eases

contract with the NEW expired in May. An independent union had been organized in the plant and a petition asking the NLRB to hold a "decertification election" was being circulated.

The company then refused to bargain further with the UEW, awaiting the outcome of the petitions. This was filed with the NLRB late last month and the election was held last Friday.

The only question on the ballot was whether the workers wished the NEW to continue as their bargaining agent. They voted 302 to 272 against the NEW and the company president, M. H. Stanley, issued a back-to-work call for Monday.

He set Thursday as a deadline for workers to return to their jobs or be discharged.

Many Fair Board officials from other counties are here to boost their own fairs and obtain any new pointers they may pick up.

The livestock exhibit on the "hill" is attracting more than usual attention, while all farm produce exhibits and other displays are being viewed with deep interest.

It has been one of the most orderly crowds ever gathered on the Fair Grounds, and Sheriff Orland Hay's and his numerous deputies are handling the parking problem and other phases of policing in a most praiseworthy manner.

The Washington C. H. High School Band, which furnished music in the grandstand during the racing Thursday afternoon, had a treat in store at the conclusion of their performance when Donald Moore and Son, fruit and vegetable dealers, who have a stand on the grounds, were to provide watermelon feast for all members of the band, on the infield. The two Moores have

Few Are Injured At Fayette Fair

One boy ate too many hot dogs. Another had a tooth ache. Several people cut their fingers and got cinders in their eyes.

So went the business of the first aid booth at the Fair Tuesday and Wednesday, according to Miss Gretchen Darling head nurse of the County Health Department.

"There have been fewer cases at the fair needing first aid treatment so far this year than there have at most fairs in the past," Miss Darling said.

Fair patrons generally are finding the annual event fully up to their expectations, and inasmuch as the Fair comes at a time when most farmers can get away from their work for a few days, the attendance each day is expected to be heavy.

Roll-back of Prices

says price ceilings may be put on when:

1. The commodity is important to the cost of living, or of production.

2. The price has risen or threatens to rise at least 20 percent above the June 1946 level or nearest representative period.

3. Regulation of the price is practicable and enforceable.

4. The public interest will be secured by such regulation.

The measure says price ceilings set must be "generally fair and equitable," and must take into consideration speculative fluctuations, changes in cost, changes in profits and other relative factors since November, 1947.

It would permit a temporary freeze of prices pending industry consultation, and would provide for hearings and reviews of price fixing orders.

The bill stipulates that for agricultural commodities any maximum price must be high enough to reflect the parity price or a comparable price established by the secretary of agriculture.

On wages, the legislation: Establishes wage controls over employees only when a maximum price has been established affecting the employer and when the employer expects to use the wage adjustment as a basis for seeking a price increase.

A wage board would be created, and would have power to rule on whether a proposed wage increase was necessary: 1. To compensate for increases in the cost of living or prevent lowering of living standards; 2. To correct inequities in the wage structure; 3. To correct substandard of living; or 4. To maintain essential production.

Anti-poll tax legislation was brought up in the Senate today and southerners immediately began filibustering tactics.

CHICAGO

Deadly Serious Issues Behind The Glamor

Since the various big political conventions in Philadelphia, a great many of the people we talk with have been saying some biting things about some of the hullabaloo and "monkey-business" that seemed to be going on during various sessions.

It would appear that a political candidate and his partisans must appeal to masses of voters, either uneducated or who are at least being downright silly at times. They say he can't win otherwise. It is claimed that such people have the balance of power in votes and they are more apt to be swayed by a winning smile, a brazen promise, a slap on the back, an amusing story or a pleasing radio voice, than by cold logic.

This is an indictment, not of our political system, but of our vaunted educational system which apparently teaches facts and is inclined to neglect philosophies. You can't blame the people too much for being swayed by political demagoguery unless they have been educated to political consciousness. We haven't progressed to that point, it seems.

Gov. Dewey himself said some months ago that a politician can't do anything for the people unless he gets himself elected. He might have added that even the best of candidates sometimes have resorted to cheap, theatrical tricks to become winners. That may not appeal to the dignified thinker, who is in the minority, but you can't attract votes from uninformed, emotional masses of people without speaking their language, or at least making them think you do. That's not too happy a commentary on our state of mind in this country, but it is something we have to face.

The vote of an illiterate counts just as heavily as that of a college president, and there are a lot more of them—a fact which unscrupulous politicians are quick to exploit. Even the so called "average" citizen, while he enjoys talking politics, too frequently doesn't take the trouble to inform himself of political background and motives.

It is surprising how few Americans can explain why they vote as they do. They know they're "for" somebody, or "agin" somebody else. Or they may just feel that they're just fed up with what they are getting and want a change. But when it comes to logical analysis of issues, a weighing of candidates or ideas, one against another—the discussion often grows vague and indefinite.

The burning questions of the current campaign are "modern"—free enterprise, civil rights, liberalism. And over the whole campaign will hang the tremendous issue of American foreign policy. Fear of modern war, the dread of atomic destruction, belays most other issues. Millions of Americans understand war, they know what it is about and they don't want any.

Because we appear not to be educated to political maturity this year's big issues are likely to be presented with scare tactics. Emotions already are beginning to be rubbed raw and if we don't have a wave of mass-hysteria before November, it will be surprising.

Far too long we've been inclined toward a national philosophy that politics, like sex, is off color and we should leave it to the professional politicians. We vote if we feel like it. But in politics, as in sex, we're apt to be influenced more by our emotions and senses than our minds. And frequently we get stung.

Back of the music and the window dressing and the catching emotional appeals of this year's campaign, will be deadly serious issues with a deadly serious portent. Let's hope we all think more and "hurrah" less.

Building Night Club Empire

By Hal Boyle

PHILADELPHIA — (P)—The 30-year-old grandson of an Italian immigrant has become a Henry Ford of the night club business in America.

And Frank Palumbo built his after-dark empire here in the City of Brotherly Love, which is popularly supposed to stay up after sunset only on the day when an evening baseball game is being played.

But Palumbo created a multimillion dollar yearly business on the basis that the masses have more money to spend at night clubs than the classes.

"The whole secret of this business is giving the people the kind of entertainment they want," said Palumbo, who owns six night clubs and restaurants in Philadelphia.

Right now he thinks the people are shopping for night club entertainment every bit as sharply as they do for their dollar's value in food or clothing.

"They no longer are just satisfied to go and pay their money and listen to a band," he said. "They want more than a voice or a tune. These guys who just play their saxophones and clarinets and turn their back to the audience are finished."

Palumbo thinks the night club business, now off 100 percent in many cities, never will enjoy again such a lucrative period as the war years.

"Night clubs have to get back to real merchandising. The fast dollar is gone."

Palumbo, a stocky, dark-haired cheerful bachelor, has made himself a civic institution here by his pleasure in giving. Friends estimate he gives away $100,000 a year.

His pattern of philanthropy is based, probably, more on what gives him pleasure than on how his gifts will bring him more business.

He likes sports—he owns a chunk of Ike Williams, the lightweight boxing champion—and gives a number of cups and trophies each year to winners of sporting events. He also takes some 45,000 children a year to the zoo, circus or a major league ball game.

By giving the zoo a leopard, four alligators, some South American birds and two rhinos he also endeared himself to the animal-loving hearts of the main line aristocracy here. And it is a crusty society you just don't crash with a new bank roll.

Palumbo has given blood transfusions as well as dollars. He is easier to hit than a radio giveaway program. As the whim seizes him, he passes out watches, pen and pencil sets, cases of liquor, perfume, gold rings, bracelets, and television sets for orphanages.

"I get my chief pleasure out of life in seeing people enjoy themselves," he says. His favorite beverage is a soft drink.

He pays out more than $1,000,000 a year to bring in the nation's top priced bands and entertainers. He says his average customer now pays only $1 a night. He never has had a minimum or cover charge. The restaurant founded by his grandfather in 1884 has catered to more than 100,000 wedding parties.

He is a kind of poor man's Sherman Billingsley. His formula: You can make more money from a lot of small income people out for a good time than you can from a small number of rich people with money to burn—but you have to plow a lot of it back. Because the people he appeals to like a cheerful giver.

So far the formula has worked. There are no rings under Palumbo's eyes from worry.

Wallace Party Definite Threat

By George E. Sokolsky

The Wallace convention must be taken seriously even if his adherents look like the side-show of a circus. Of such stuff are mass movements woven. The hysteria over nothing in Philadelphia, the holy-roller singing of doggerel, the repetition of the words "China and Greece," the tower-of-babel-like rhythm of sounds with only emotional content—this is the pattern of the mob, driven by fear or hunger or passion, or just driven because it wants to be driven.

The essence of this movement is Soviet Russia. This was clear not only in the set speeches but in the ugly roar of this gaily traitorous mob. These same people persecuted the Bund, the Christian front, the Ku Klux Klan. Had anyone done for Hitler what they are doing for Stalin, they would have organized lynching parties. Yet there is no difference between them either in spirit or in purpose. The mob always reacts with the same hysteria. And it never knows its direction, except that it hates.

The new party is in the service of Soviet Russia. It attacks indiscriminately every American who is not in the service of Soviet Russia. It attacks Truman, Dewey, Dulles, Vandenberg, Marshall, Forrestal, General Draper, General Clay—the list is long but it is indiscriminate. The speeches closely followed the line of foreign and domestic policies of the daily worker, and the new times, a weekly publication issued in Moscow and circulating in four languages, including English, in the United States.

These Wallaceites are not Communists, because to be an avowed Communist requires conviction and courage and a religious faith, which, while from my nontheistic must be recognized for what it is.

The Wallaceites are not of such stock; they are rather like the swooning adulators of Rudolph Valentino or Frank Sinatra; they are rather masochists who revel in their umbrages; they are rather like those mystics who follow Father Devine, or those pursuers of the impossible who produced the ham-and-eggs and the Townsend movements. Unhappy, clutching to their disabilities, this is their outlet. This new party for a moment frees their souls from an imprisonment of their own making. They shriek; they shout; their eyes shine fanatically. They are masters of power. Then they sink back nursing their griefs.

Lenin never organized such into a force, but Hitler did. For them, Lenin had only contempt and over them he established what he called a dictatorship of the proletariat, held in a trusteeship by an oligarchy of his own devising. Dr. Sun Yat-Sen recognized their menace and he organized China into a state of "tutelage," as he called it, with the Kuomintang as trustee and tutor. Kemal Pasha ignored them and frightened them. But Mussolini and Hitler welded them into a force which both dominated, each in his own country, by hypnotic oratory and manerisms. And both brought their countries to destruction.

In the United States such a movement is particularly menacing because of the heterogeneous character of the American population. The Wallaceites are making a special appeal to the Negroes, of whom there are 13,000,000 in this country and who are growing increasingly discontented over the discriminations practiced against them both in the north and the south. When the temporary chairman of Wallace's convention challenged President Truman to issue an executive order abolishing Jim Crow in the armed forces, he put his finger on Truman's hypocrisy. For whereas Truman demands that Congress abolish discrimination in this country by law, he had not dared to abolish discrimination where the law already permits him to do it as his own discretion. And he had not dared to do it until politics intervened because he knew that at a time of national crisis, such an act would imperil the national defense.

When Wallace and his cohorts issue such a challenge in our present peril, they strike not at Truman but at the United States, just as Truman's convocation of Congress for this purpose, in special session, strikes not at Dewey but at the United States.

This then is what we face as a people: Wallace, having stimulated Negro rebelliousness, has channeled American history into a treacherous and perilous course.

Laff-A-Day

Diet and Health Mouth Inflammation Has Many Causes

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

STOMATITIS merely means inflammation of the mouth and, since inflammation may be due to anything from the irritation of hot foods to the action of germs, treatment is of little avail until the cause is found.

Among the most frequent causes of stomatitis are injuries to the mouth's lining membrane or to the tongue from decayed teeth, tartar on the teeth, and improper care of the mouth. As I said before, the use of over-hot foods or liquids may also be responsible, or the condition may be brought on by the swallowing of chemical substances, such as strong acids or alkalis.

Due to Teeth

In those cases where the condition is due to the teeth, of course, the services of a dentist are required.

Where chemicals or hot foods are at fault, a soft, non-irritating diet should be employed. Alcoholic beverages and smoking are forbidden, and the patient is given a cleansing, soothing mouth wash, such as a mixture of boric acid and glycerine. Sometimes inflammation of the mouth may follow the use of such drugs as mercury, bismuth and gold, employed in the treatment of various diseases. The inflammation of the mouth tends to clear up promptly after the drug producing the disturbance is stopped.

Caused by Infection

Stomatitis may also be caused by infection with germs, such as the streptococcus. In one form of this condition, the infection may be a complication of pyoderma, or other form, the infection first holds in the tonsils and then spreads to the roof of the mouth and to the lining membrane of the cheeks. The disorder may be accurately diagnosed by making a culture of the throat.

In this condition, also, careful treatment of the gums and teeth by a dentist is important to clear out hidden nests or pockets of germs. Penicillin, applied locally in the mouth or given by injection into a muscle, may help clear up this type of infection.

Trench Mouth

Trench mouth is another cause of stomatitis. This disorder, as a rule, may be cleared up rapidly by the injection of penicillin into a muscle. Lozenges containing the penicillin may be held in the mouth and may aid in clearing up the condition more quickly.

It is also advised that these patients receive plenty of vitamin B-complex and vitamin C. It is found that some cases may clear up with the vitamin treatment alone.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

R. G.: Will you please tell me something about the cause and remedy of spasms of the intestine?

Answer: Intestinal spasm may be due to a nervous disorder. It occurs in spastic colitis.

A thorough study would be advisable to determine the exact cause in your case. An X-ray of the bowel should be taken to aid in the diagnosis; then the proper remedy could be suggested.

900 Federal Jobs For GOP Patronage

WASHINGTON, July 29—(P)—Republicans pasted a "Reserved for GOP label today on some 900 federal jobs.

"The Senate does not intend to consider nominations," the party's congressional leaders said last night in outlining their program for the special session.

That means hundreds of postmasters, federal judges and others whose appointments have not been confirmed face a short-lived job expectancy—if the Republicans succeed in putting Gov. Thomas E. Dewey in the White House next year.

The decision not to take up now any nominations passed over during the regular session is an extension of an informal agreement by the GOP high command last May. At that time they reportedly passed the word on to key committee chairmen not to approve any further major appointments by President Truman.

However, Mr. Truman can keep his selections in office until next year under interim appointments.

When Prices Do Start Down Drop Expected To Be Sharp

NEW YORK, July 29—(P)—When prices do start to go down, the decline probably will be a sharp one, the national Bureau of Economic Research said.

The observation is contained in a study of postwar prices made by the bureau and reported by Dr. Frederick C. Mills, professor of economics at Columbia University. Dr. Mills is a member of the research staff of the bureau, a non-profit organization devoted to scientific and economic research.

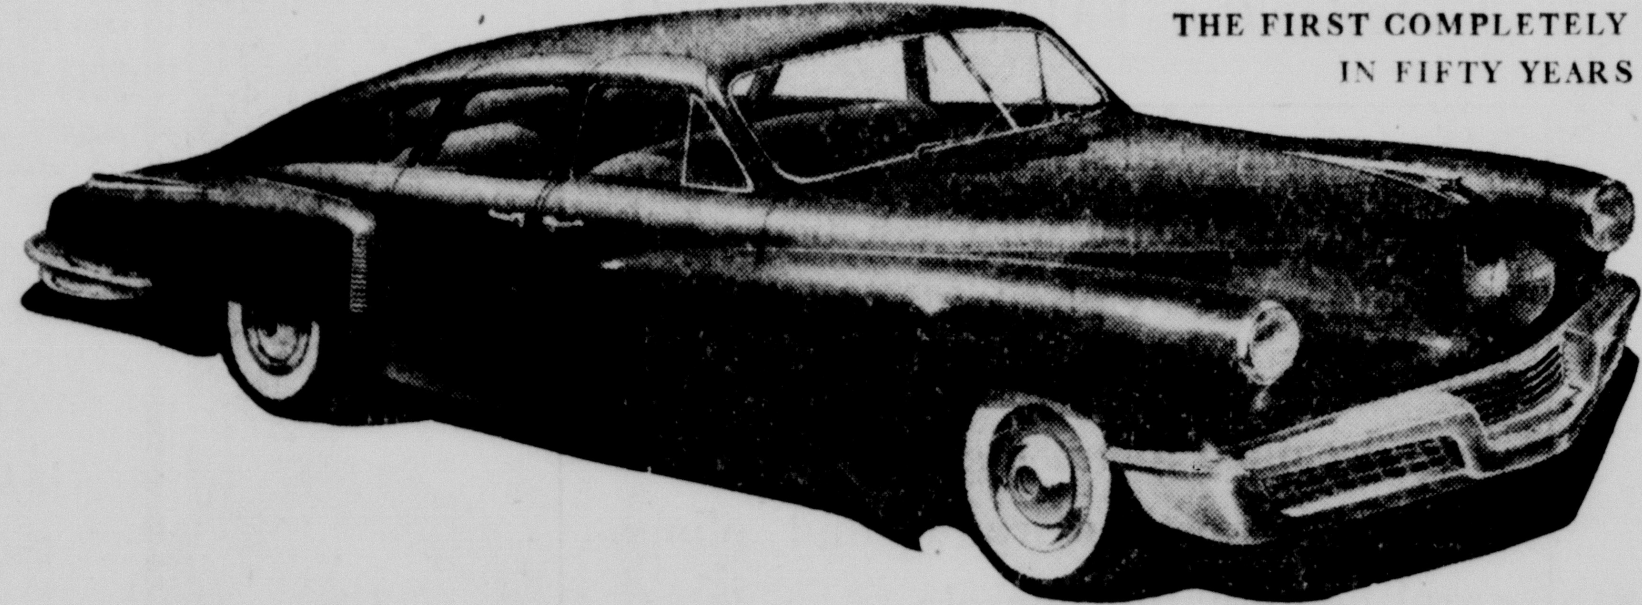

In a review of price trends,

Dr. Mills said that since 1938-39 and up to the recent further advance in consumer prices, wholesale market prices had doubled and living costs had gone up two-thirds.

The greatest advances, he said, were in soft goods such as food and farm products, with farm products rising nearly 200 percent.

With the stability of rent holding the level in check, Dr. Mills reported, the general cost of living for urban workers went up 68 percent.

Completely New? Yes! For years you've seen cars gradually improved through annual model changes. But in this car you step into an entirely new automotive age... years and years ahead of conventional cars in performance, in economical operation, in safety, and—mark this—in value, too.

The Tucker has dozens of exciting engineering features, any one of which would be a major model change in a normal year... features completely new, yet completely proved in fifteen years of rigid tests.

The Tucker is a longer car and more luxurious than others in the medium price field. It is only five feet high from road to roof. It has, not 100, not 120, but 166 horsepower of smooth, effortless rear-engine power.

And what a joy to drive! No engine heat, fumes, or noise flowing back through the passenger compartment, because the engine is in the rear. Ordinary traction jolts and jars either eliminated or unbelievably softened by the exclusive new rubber torsional wheel-suspension. A car, at last, with solid four-wheel stability, geared to the road.

Pilot Models are already on the road. Production of cars will follow soon. Be among the first to learn about this exciting new car. So owe it to yourself to get acquainted with a car so completely new in line and design... so completely new in engineering principles... that it will still be a leader many years and thousands of miles from now.

The home was festive with decorations of summer flowers, and the small tables seating the group for a tempting salad and sandwich course, were also centered with small arrangements of flowers.

At the close of the congenial game which progressed throughout the evening, the hostess presented awards to Mrs. Merrill Hoppes, who was the holder of high score, Mrs. Roy Jenks second while third went to Mrs. John Enoch. Mrs. Anderson was assisted throughout the evening by her mother, Mrs. Dana Kellenberger.

Mrs. Betty Bennett of Sabina was included as a guest with the members present who were: Mrs. Roy Jenks, Mrs. Charles Palton, Mrs. Homer Wilson Jr., Mrs. Merrill Hoppes, Mrs. Wendell Hoppes, Mrs. Russell Hatfield, Mrs. John Enoch, Mrs. Waldo Rife, Mrs. Ruth Coe, Mrs. Reba Blizzard and Mrs. Mary Kathryn Conaway.

Party Honors Former Member Of Bridge Club

Mrs. Frank Littler and Mrs. John Evans combined gracious hospitalities at the home of Mrs. Littler when they entertained members of their two table bridge club in honor of Mrs. A. B. Crawford of St. Petersburg, Florida, a former member.

Summer flowers were used in the tasteful decorations throughout the rooms, and pastel sweet peas made up the small bouquets centering each of the small tables seating the group for the serving of a tempting dessert course preceding the afternoon's game.

At the close of the several progressions awards were presented by the hostesses to Mrs. Kerns Thompson who was the winner of the high score trophy, Mrs. J. Earl McLean, second, and Mrs. Crawford received a lovely guest prize.

Additional members present were Miss Magie Rowe, Harry Hays and Mrs. T. Glenn McCoy.

Mrs. Edward Lewis and daughter Janet of Cincinnati were Tuesday overnight and Wednesday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Nis to attend the Fayette County Fair.

New Phone Equipment Installed Here Designed To Better Service

Lots of things are going on today in the two story brick building on East Court Street which houses the Washington C. H. telephone exchange.

New dial telephone equipment has been installed and rural subscribers have been "hooked in." Still more equipment is being installed.

When this is completed, according to Paul Dougherty, commercial manager for the Ohio Bell Telephone Company here "telephone service in the county will be up to the high standards we have set for ourselves."

He admitted that service, until recently, was not all it should be. But there have been several factors responsible for this.

Volume Increased
First of all is the volume of calls handled by the exchange. Today more than 22,000 calls are being handled during a 24-hour period, contrasted with only 12,000 in 1941.

Secondly is the equipment which made up the backbone of the telephone exchange. Much of it dated back to 1915 when Washington C. H. became one of the first communities in the United States to boast of an all-dial exchange.

Xenia, a nearby city of size comparable to Washington C. H., still has a manual exchange. That is, there are no dials at all. A subscriber picks up the telephone and waits for the operator to say, "Number please."

The mechanics of a manual exchange, Dougherty pointed out, are fairly simple.

An operator sits in front of her switchboard. Before her are several banks of "jacks," or small holes, and the cords which she plugs into those holes. The holes, of course, are connected to wires leading to subscribers' telephones.

There are fewer cords available to the operator than there are lines from subscribers to the central office. When all the cords are in use, the operator obviously cannot plug into a jack to answer another subscriber who picks up his telephone to call. The little light assigned to the subscriber on the switchboard flashes on—but the operator cannot talk to him.

Thus the subscriber can't hear the friendly "number please."

Dial Operation
Dial telephones operate on this same theory. It's just done by electrical impulses instead of by a live operator.

When a subscriber picks up his telephone instrument, the dial equipment in the exchange begins an electrical "search" for a line through the device which routes his call to the person he is calling. Like in a manual exchange, there are not as many lines through the exchange as there are subscribers. When all these lines in the exchange are busy (like the lines the operator uses in the manual exchange), the machinery cannot "plug in."

That is why your dial telephone sometimes cannot give you a "dial tone"—a mechanical request for you to dial your number—immediately when you pick up your instrument.

The dial tone is something new in Washington C. H. and has taken hold without much difficulty, Dougherty said. It has aided in keeping "piled up" calls to a minimum.

New Equipment
The new additions to the county's telephone system are being installed in an attempt to remedy this time lapse between the moment a subscriber picks up his phone and he hears the tone. It will, of course, allow more conversation to clear through the exchange at any given time.

Already much new postwar equipment has been cut into the system. In order to get it functioning, a renumbering of a large percentage of phones served by the Washington C. H. exchange has been required.

"It hasn't been fun to us or to subscribers to have this renumbering done," Dougherty observed, "but it had to be done if the service is to be improved."

All actual telephone mechanism is located in the upstairs of the phone building. A visit to the average person, is interesting—but it leaves him mystified and puzzled, but appreciative of the large number of relays and other equipment he has at his service when he spins the dial on his phone.

Eddie Can Explain
Edward Cullen, a veteran of 30 years' service at the Washington C. H. exchange, can explain it clearly when the equipment can be viewed in operation.

He shows how calls come into the office, go through the primary selectors, how the mechanism acts when the caller dials the first digit, or number, and how this activity is multiplied when a city subscriber dials "117" to call Bloomingburg or other three-digit combinations to contact other county communities.

The actual operation is based upon a series of simple electrical impulses. When these impulses are "hooked together," it becomes completed.

That's the reason for all the clattering and clicking—it sounds like machine guns being fired—in the telephone office.

Despite all the fancy dial equipment, 33 operators are still on the Washington C. H. exchange payroll.

They put through long distance and pay station calls.

And, from a prewar total of about 400 long distance calls daily, the girls—up to 10 are on duty at one time—now place over 900 calls each day.

More equipment has been added to the long distance section, too. It's been badly needed, Dougherty says.

"As I've said, when this program of expansion is completed, our service will be up to its high normal standards," Dougherty concluded. "The sooner it is completed, the better everyone—including us—will like it."

Akron Levies Tax On Bingo Games

AKRON, July 29.—(AP)—City council yesterday adopted a three percent amusement tax on bingo games—a step which may net the city $25,000 to $30,000 additional revenue each year.

Estimate of the revenue was made by assistant law director Nathan Koplin. Adoption of the tax came after a heated debate on the operations of the bingo games.

The new tax will be upon gross income from bingo games, which may be operated here only for charitable purposes.

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's gives happy relief and will help the 16 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Reappraisal Is Progressing In First Ward Area

Washington C. H. Men Handle Routine Work In First Measuring

The first phase of the property reappraisal-taking the outside measurements of the buildings and sketching them to scale on the card-has been completed in nearly a third of the first ward. The report on the progress was given by Harry Holler, one of the supervisors of the appraisal firm of Cole-Layer-Trumble of Dayton, at the end of the first week. The reappraisal which eventually is to cover the entire city and county, was started in the area between Western Avenue and Earl Street east of North North Street. The section is called the Washington Improvement Addition on the city maps. The stockyards district is in the eastern edge of the area now being worked.

Five Washington C. H. men are handling the routine measuring under the supervision of Holler and Jack W. Haley of the Dayton company. The assistants were listed as Hershel Taylor, Harold Hill, Stanley Sanders, William Bryant and Glenn Roberts. In the near future, Holler said, the company would have specially trained men to come in to make the inside study of the houses for classification. This phase, he added, probably would not be started until after all the outside measurements have been taken in the first ward and this first phase started in the second ward. He gave no timetable for the work, saying "it all depends on how we get along." Appraisers have encountered no difficulties, Holler said. The people have been "very cooperative, for the most part," he declared.

Meanwhile, in the office of County Engineer Robert E. Willis maps for the appraisal in the rural sections of the county are nearing completion. Eighty percent of the work has been done, Willis said. The tentative deadline for turning them over to Auditor Ulric Acton is Aug. 15. Willis said they would be ready before then.

Fire Sweeps Airport

AKRON, July 29-(AP)—Fire destroyed three buildings and seven training planes at the Ling Air Field near Barberton, causing damage estimated by co-owner L. H. Watkins at $70,000. A bolt of lightning was blamed as the cause.

Dairy Cattle Awards Made In Open Show

Gebhart Bros. from Germantown made the most prominent showing in the Guernsey class of the dairy breed classification at the Fayette County Fair while the honors in the Jersey class were about evenly divided among three exhibitors.

The prizes, which range from $10 to $2, were awarded as follows—for the Guernsey class: bull, over two years old—Gebhart Bros.; bull, over 1-1, and 2, Gebhart Bros.; bull, under 1-1, Gebhart Bros.; 2, Clyde Payton of Leesburg; 3, Gebhart Bros.; cow, 3 years or older—1, and 2, Gebhart Bros.; cow, over 2-1, Payton; 2, Gebhart; 3, Hugh Wilson of Washington C. H.; cow, over 1-1, Hugh Wilson; 2, and 3, Gebhart; cow, under 1-1, Gebhart; 2, Payton; 3, Wilson. Gebhart Bros. also won prizes for having the champion Guernsey bull, the champion cow and the champion graded herd. In the Jersey class, the prizes were awarded as follows: bull, over two years old—1, Homer C. Meyers of Troy; 2, River Hills Farms of California; 3, bull, over one—1, Chester Folck & Sons of Springfield; 2, River Hills Farms; 3, River Hills Farms; 2, Myers; 3, River Hills Farms; cow, over one—1, and 2, Folck; 3, Myers; cow, under one—1, and 2, Folck; 3, River Hills Farms. Ohmer C. Myers had the champion bull, Chester Folck and Sons had the champion cow and the prizes for the graded herd went to Myers for first prize and River Hills Farms for second.

Raymond R. Starbuck, extension dairy husbandry specialist from the Ohio State University, judged the dairy breeds.

Food Handlers Get Suggestions On Sanitation

Cleanliness Asked
In Circular Letter

Sanitary handling of food is encouraged in a circular letter being sent to all restaurants and other food handling concerns in Fayette County by the Fayette County Board of Health.

In releasing the circular, Dr. Gordon E. Savage stated in some cases he and other members of the Board of Health had observed one or more violations of good sanitation in food handling.

With the list of suggestions was mailed a letter suggesting that all those employees who handle food be required to read the suggestions and that the list be posted over each place where employees wash their hands.

Copies of this list of suggestions have been distributed among concessionaires handling food at the fair.

The list included:
Wear clean clothes.
Keep person clean, especially hands and nails.
Wash hands thoroughly and frequently.

Do not wipe hands on dirty aprons or dish cloths.
Keep hands, pencil, and change slip away from nose, ear, hair and mouth.

Women should wear hair nets, head bands or other covering for the hair.

Do not scratch head or other parts of body.

Do not handle utensils by part which comes in contact with patron's mouth, such as blade of knife, prongs of fork, rim of glass, etc.

Do not use tobacco while preparing or serving food.

Have annual physical examination, or more frequently, if indicated.

Wash utensils thoroughly and use effective, approved germicidal treatment, such as boiling water and chemicals.

If utensils are wiped, use clean cloth. It is better sanitation to permit utensils to dry without wiping.

Use clean cloths to wipe counter or table.

Keep premises clean and free from flies, roaches, rats, and other insects and rodents.

The United States used from six to 10 million ounces of silver a year during World War II to make military insignia.

July 31 Last Day For Paying Into OUC Fund

Frank J. Collopy, administrator of the Bureau of Unemployment Compensation, today warned employers subject to the Ohio Unemployment Compensation Law that they had until midnight July 31, to turn in both their tax reports and payments for the second quarter of 1948.

Collopy said that such reports and payments must be postmarked July 31 or earlier to avoid penalties as provided by the Ohio law.

In general, employers covered by the Ohio law are those with three or more employees. Among employers exempted from coverage and payment of the unemployment tax are private and parochial schools, charitable institutions, governmental units, those engaged in agriculture and those who employ domestics.

Employers who do not get their tax reports in by the July 31 deadline will be subject to a $5 penalty fee for each thirty days they are late up to maximum of $25. Employers who do not get their tax payments in on time will have to pay an interest charge above and beyond their normal tax rate, Collopy stated.

Liner Is Delayed By Man Overboard

HALIFAX, N. S., July 29.—(P)—The Italian liner Vulcania arrived last night after a one-hour delay caused by a passenger jumping overboard. The man was rescued by crew members who launched a lifeboat.

Witnesses said the man, identified as Giacomo Milgioni, 33, an American citizen, suddenly left a dining room table and dived over the rail just as the Vulcania was entering Halifax harbor. He suffered no ill effects from his dunking but was confined to ship's hospital for examination. He boarded the ship at Naples and was bound for New York.

The Virgin Islands, containing about 50 tropical islands and islets, were discovered by Columbus in 1493.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store.

Reduction in Sales Tax Is Near At Hand

No Tax On Sales
Under 41 Cents
After August 1

Residents of Fayette County, both dealers and buyers, are deeply interested in the new change in the Ohio sales tax law, effective August 1 after Governor Herbert signs the law, which abolishes all state sales tax on purchases under 41 cents.

However, while abolishing tax on purchases up to 41 cents, the law provides two cents tax on purchases of 41 cents to 70 cents, inclusive, and three cents on all purchases of 71 cents to 1.08 cents, inclusive, as at present.

In abolishing tax on sales under 41 cents, the law provides that vendors do not have to keep a record of purchases under 41 cents, and may not be assessed for sales under 41 cents solely because he fails to keep such records.

If a vendor does not have adequate records of sales under 41 cents, the tax commissioner may make a test check of his sales under 41 cents during a representative period, and from that check may determine the proper proportion that the vendor's sales under 41 cents bear to the vendor's total sales.

In brief, sales from 41 cents through 70 cents are still taxed at two cents; sales from 71 cents through $1.08 are still taxed at three cents, and tax rates on sales above $1.08 remain unchanged.

Vendor's discounts on tax stamps purchased remains at three cents.

Subject to signing of the bill by the governor, the new rates go into effect August 1, 1948, according to C. Emory Glander, state tax commissioner who issued the following statement:

"I wish to emphasize that there is no change whatever in any of the brackets involving sales of 41 cents and more.

"I wish also to emphasize that there is no change whatever in the requirement for cancelling pre-

Dairy Cattle Awards Placed

Betty Weidinger
Takes Top Honors

Top honors in the 4-H Club dairy cattle division at the Fayette County Fair went to Betty Weidinger who showed her championship Jersey heifer. Besides winning the grand championship, Betty also won the showmanship award which will be presented to her Thursday night during the paid tax receipts with respect to taxable sales. Vendors who wilfully fail to give stamps to customers will continue to be subject to prosecution and also to suspension or revocation of their licenses.

"The amendment to the law contains changes relative to the keeping of records by vendors. I shall make an announcement concerning the administrative policy of the department of taxation in this regard when the act becomes effective."

4-H Club exercises in front of the grandstand.

Hugh Wilson won second in the round-up of all of the winners and also second place in the showmanship contest. Charles Dray took third place in the entire field while Joan Weidinger won third prize in the showmanship contest.

Other winners in the 4-H Club dairy division were as follows: Ayrshire calf, Charles Dray, first; Jersey Dray, second. Jersey calf—Joan Weidinger, first; Betty Weidinger, second. Jersey heifer—Betty Weidinger, first; Joan Weidinger, second. Jersey cow—Betty Weidinger, first.

Guernsey calf—Hugh Wilson, first; Richard Hays, second;

Eugene Hays, third. Guernsey heifer—Hugh Wilson, first, second and third. Brown Swiss calf—Roger Pope, first. Brown Swiss heifer—Jack Pope, first; Roger Pope, second.

R. R. Starbuck, an extension dairy husbandry specialist from Ohio State University judged the cattle and John T. Mount, the assistant state 4-H Club leader from Ohio State University, picked the showmanship winners.

USO Is Coming Back With Revival of Draft

WASHINGTON, July 29.—(P)—The USO is coming back. It is the wartime organization that provided clubs and shows for servicemen.

Defense Secretary Forrestal said today he has approved a civilian advisory committee's recommendation that the United Service Organizations be reborn to meet a need created by the expansion of the armed forces.

Uniformity In Traffic Signs Being Sought

Campaign Launched To Abolish All Old Type Signs

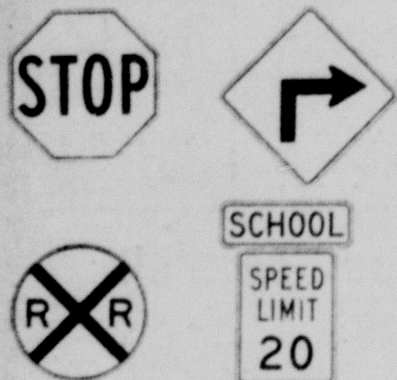

A campaign aimed at obtaining greater uniformity in traffic signs has been launched by the Ohio Department of Highways as part of the coordinated traffic safety program in Ohio, but it will find practically all signs in this city complying with the state regulations, City Manager W. W. Hill said Thursday.

The marking of streets and highways with standard signs is necessary to avoid utter confusion in the movement of traffic, it is pointed out.

To make these signs as effective as possible in the safeguarding and expediting of traffic, however, it is essential that there be uniformity as to shape, color, dimensions, symbols, wording, lettering and reflectorization.

It is also essential that there be uniformity of application. Identical conditions, it is pointed out, should always be marked with the same type of signs.

Uniform standards provide four basic sign shapes so motorists can tell instantly the type of sign by its shape.

• OHIO DEPARTMENT OF HIGHWAYS DIVISION OF TRAFFIC AND SAFETY

The octagon is used only for the STOP sign, which means stop and make sure the way is clear before proceeding.

The diamond shape always carries a warning of some hazard or unusual condition on the road ahead, such as curve, turn, etc., and calls for caution and reduced speed.

A round sign is used only for railroad grade crossings.

Speed limits, turning, passing and parking regulations are carried only in the rectangular shape.

The Ohio Uniform Traffic Act provides that all traffic control devices erected after the effective date of the act—September 6, 1941—shall conform to the Ohio manual of traffic control devices for streets and highways, prepared by the division of traffic and safety of the Ohio Highway Department.

The Ohio manual applies whenever an old traffic sign is replaced or whenever any new traffic sign is installed by local authorities.

Miss Wilson Entertains

Miss Pauline Wilson was hostess for the meeting of Circle Three of the WSCS of the Methodist Church Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Clem Pollard, chairman, presided. Mrs. Earl Custis was in charge of devotions and Mrs. Charles Gordon and Mrs. Guy Taylor presented the lesson study.

A short business session was conducted by the chairman. The circle presented Mrs. Walter Stackhouse who is moving to Florida with a lovely gift.

During the social hour, the hostess assisted by Mrs. Hobart Matson, and Mrs. H. F. Erick, served dainty refreshments.

Broken Punch Links Men to Columbus Crime

Broken Bits Found In Store Fit Broken Implement

Although Herbert L. Ringo and William H. McKenna, held here following their arrest while burglarizing the H. H. Denton store on West Court Street early Sunday morning, have strongly denied any further crimes besides the one here and an open air theater burglary in Franklin County, they definitely have been connected with attempted robbery of the Shurman Provision Co. plant, where an unsuccessful attempt had been made to force a safe door.

Columbus detectives who came here to question the pair, took back with them a broken punch found in the kit of burglar tools when the men were arrested here.

The punch was compared with broken bits of a punch found at the Shurman Provision Co. plant, where an unsuccessful attempt had been made to force a safe door. They fit perfectly.

Warrants for the pair were included in a letter from the Columbus Police Department, in case the two men are not sentenced from this county.

The Columbus authorities asked permission to retain the broken punch to use in prosecuting Ringo and McKenna if they should be taken back to Columbus.

Meanwhile the pair, under $1,000 bond each, are in the county jail here awaiting grand jury session.

They are both from Louisville, Ky.

Heating Tissues By Radar Tried At Mayo Clinic

War-time Research May Bring Better Peacetime Health

ROCHESTER, Minn.—The tiny radiowaves that provided the "eyes" of radar are now under study as possible aids in treating the human body.

While radar figuratively helped to cook the goose of the Axis, researchers at the Mayo Clinic hope it now will provide a new means for heating living tissue in the treatment of disorders influenced by penetrating heat.

In radar, the "microwaves" were beamed through space and reflected back from targets they encountered—thus producing an "image" of the target on a special screen.

In the still-experimental technique known as "microkymato-therapy," or "microwave" diathermy, they are designed to penetrate tissue at any desired point—and do such things as heat muscle layers beneath the skin and increase the flow of blood.

A group of Mayo investigators, headed by Dr. Frank H. Krusen of the section on physical medicine, already has published a preliminary report on the use of radar waves to heat living tissue in experimental animals.

A microwave is an extremely short wave of electrical current. The type of wave used in the heating technique measures only 10 centimeters (a little over three inches) in length. Such waves vibrate about three billion times a second. Radiowaves used in commercial broadcasting are more than 50,000 times longer and their vibrating rate is only around 1,600,000 times a second.

The ideal wave for heating living tissue would be one that would be short enough to be focused on any desired area. It also would have a high enough frequency to produce adequate penetration and absorption.

Various types of radiating waves are already in use for heating living tissues. These include:

1. Infra-red heat waves—the invisible rays of the sun located immediately next to the visible spectrum. Man can produce infra-red waves with special lamps.
2. "Long-wave" diathermy currents with frequencies up to three million cycles a second.
3. "Short-wave" diathermy (radio) radiations of about 30 meters in length and frequencies of ten million cycles a second.
4. "Ultra-short" radio waves of 3-meter length and frequencies of 100 million cycles a second.

Thus, the new microwaves are 30 times shorter and vibrate 30 times faster than "ultra-short" waves.

Infra-red rays can be focused from a lamp like a searchlight beam, but they penetrate scarcely at all. The "short" radiowaves employed up to now are penetrating but they cannot be focused.

The new microwaves are fed into a cone-shaped director which can be focused on a specific area and beamed very accurately.

The Mayo studies on animals have shown that such waves are at least as penetrating as "ultra-short" waves. There also is preliminary evidence that microwaves are absorbed more efficiently.

If human use is demonstrated as feasible, the researchers reported, "the possibility of placing the microwave director in any position will provide wide flexibility in therapeutic application. Freedom

CHAPTER ONE

HERCULE POIROT was sitting at his neat writing desk on a pleasant May morning when his manservant George approached him and murmured deferentially: "There is a lady, sir, asking to see you."

"What kind of a lady?" Poirot asked cautiously.

He always enjoyed the meticulous accuracy of George's descriptions.

"She would be aged between forty and fifty, I should say, sir. Untidy and somewhat artistic in appearance. Good walking shoes, brogues. A tweed coat and skirt—but a lace blouse. Some questionable Egyptian beads and a blue chiffon scarf."

Poirot shrugged slightly. "I do not think, sir, that you are indisposed?"

"You have already, I gather, told me that I am engaged on important business and cannot be disturbed?"

George coughed again. "She said, sir, that she had come up from the country specially, and did not mind how long she waited."

Poirot sighed. "One should never struggle against the inevitable," he said. "If a middle-aged lady wearing sham Egyptian beads has made up her mind to see the famous Hercule Poirot, and has come up from the country to do so, nothing will deflect her. She will sit there in the hall till she gets her way. Show her in, Georges."

George retreated, returning presently to announce formally: "Mrs. Cloade."

The figure in the worn tweeds and the floating scarf came in with a beaming face. She advanced to Poirot with an outstretched hand, "I'll be damned, I'm swinging and clinking."

"M. Poirot," she said, "I have come to you under spirit guidance."

Poirot blinked slightly. "Indeed, Madame. Perhaps you will take a seat and tell me—"

He got no further.

"Both ways, M. Poirot. With the automatic writing and with the ouija board. It was the night before last, Madame Elvira (a wonderful woman she is) and I were using the board. We got the same initials repeatedly. H.P. H.P. H.P. Of course I did not get the true significance at once. It takes, you know, a little time. One cannot, on this earthly plane, see clearly. I racked my brains thinking of someone with those initials. I knew it must connect up with the last seance—really a most poignant one, but it was some time before I got it. And then I bought a copy of Picture Post (Spirit guideance again, you see, because usually I buy the New Statesman) and there you were—a picture of you, and described, and an account of what you had done. It is wonderful, don't you think, M. Poirot, how everything has a purpose? Clearly, you are the person appointed by the Guides to elucidate this matter."

Poirot surveyed her thoughtfully. Strangely enough the thing that really caught his attention was that she had remarkably shrewd light-blue eyes. They gave point, as it were, to her rambling method of approach.

"And what, Mrs. Cloade, is that right?" He frowned. "I seem to have heard the name some time ago—"

She nodded vehemently. "My poor brother-in-law—Gordon. Immensely rich and often mentioned in the press. He was killed in the Blitz over a year ago—a great blow to all of us. My husband is his younger brother. He is a doctor. Dr. Lionel Cloade."

"Of course," she added, lowering her voice, "he has no idea that I am consulting you. He would not approve. Doctors, I find, have a very materialistic outlook. The spiritual seems to be strangely hidden from them. They pin their faith on Science—but what I say is... what is Science—what can it do?"

There seemed, to Hercule Poirot, to be no answer to the question other than a meticulous and painstaking description embracing Pasteur, Lister, Humphrey Davy's safety lamp—the convenience of electricity in the home and several hundred other kindred items. But that, naturally, was not the answer Mrs. Lionel Cloade wanted. In actual fact her question, like so many questions, was not really a question at all. It was a mere rhetorical gesture.

Hercule Poirot contented himself with inquiring in a practical manner: "In what way do you believe I can help you, Mrs. Cloade?"

"Do you believe in the reality of the spirit world, M. Poirot?"

"I am a good Catholic," said Poirot cautiously.

Mrs. Cloade waved aside the Catholic faith with a smile of pity. "At twelve o'clock," said Hercule Poirot, "I have an important appointment."

It was a well-timed remark. Mrs. Cloade leaned forward. "I must come to the point at once. Would it be possible for you, M. Poirot, to find a missing person?"

Poirot's eyebrows rose. "It might be possible—yes," he replied cautiously. "But the police, my dear Mrs. Cloade, could do so a great deal more easily than I could. They have all the necessary machinery."

Mrs. Cloade waved away the police as she had waved away the church.

"No, M. Poirot—it is to you I have been guided—by those beyond the veil. Now listen. My brother Gordon married some weeks before his death, a young widow—a Mrs. Underhay. He, first husband (poor child, such a grief to her) was reported dead in Africa. A mysterious country—Africa."

"A mysterious continent," Poirot corrected her. "Possibly. What part—"

She swept on. "Central Africa. The home of voodoo, of the zombies—"

"The zombies is in the West Indies."

Mrs. Cloade swept on: "—of black magic—of strange and secret practices—a country where a man could disappear and never be heard of again."

"Possibly, possibly," said Poirot. "But the same is true of Piccadilly Circus."

Mrs. Cloade waved away Piccadilly Circus.

"Twice lately, M. Poirot, a communication has come through from a spirit who gives his name as Robert. The message was the same each time. Not dead... We were puzzled, we knew no Robert. Asking for further guidance we got this, 'R.U. R.U. R.U.'—then Tell R. Tell R. Tell Robert," we asked. No, from Robert. R.U. 'What does the U stand for?' Then, M. Poirot, the most significant answer came. 'Little Boy Blue. Little Boy Blue. Ha ha ha! You see?'"

"No," said Poirot, "I do not."

She looked at him pityingly. "The nursery rhyme Little Boy Blue. 'Under the Haycock fast asleep'—Underhay—you see?"

Poirot nodded. He forbore to ask why, if the name Robert could be spelt out, the name Underhay could not have been treated the same way, and why it had been necessary to resort to a kind of cheap Secret Service spy jargon.

"And my sister-in-law's name is Rosaleen," finished Mrs. Cloade triumphantly. "You see? Confusing all these Rs. But the meaning is quite plain. 'Tell Rosaleen that Robert Underhay is not dead.'"

"Aha, and did you tell her?"

Mrs. Cloade looked slightly taken aback. "Er—well—no. You see, I mean—well, people are so skeptical. Rosaleen, I am sure, would be so. And then, poor child, it might upset her—wondering, you know, where he was—and what he was doing."

"Besides projecting his voice through the ether? Quite so. A curious method, surely, of announcing his safety?"

"Ah, M. Poirot, you are not an initiate. And how do we know what the circumstances are. Poor Captain Underhay (or is it Major Underhay) may be a prisoner somewhere in the dark interior of Africa. But if he could be found, M. Poirot, if he could be restored to his dear young Rosaleen. Think of her happiness! Oh, M. Poirot, I have been sent to you—surely, surely you will not refuse the best of the spiritual world."

from pads, encumbering cables and tawling commonly used with short-wave diathermy will permit more rapid cooling of the skin. The radiation from the single microwave director can be beamed and localized in the manner of a spotlight, thus facilitating clinical application."

The studies on animals showed the following:

1. Internal tissue can be adequately heated without undue heating of the skin.
2. A definite increase of blood flow occurs in a part heated by microwaves.

Montana Is Bigger Than Texas, Claim

ANACONDA, Mont.—(AP)—Jack C. O'Toole, Shelby cattleman and Montana booster extraordinary, insists his state is the nation's largest, instead of being third largest as the books say.

Here's the way he argues:

"Many persons have the idea that Texas is the biggest state in the union. They arrive at this conclusion because of two reasons: First, Texans have been preaching that propaganda for years. Second, people haven't stopped to think that much of Montana is standing on end.

"Iron out the Rockies, and Montana would exceed any other state in size."

Not a single bird has become extinct in Africa, and only one or two in Asia, South America and Australia.

Reds Shut Out Again by Giants

Dodgers Dump Cards Into Third Place

By JACK HAND

(By The Associated Press)
The Burt-Shotton-Leo Durocher managerial shakeup is proving a tonic to both the Brooklyn Dodgers and New York Giants.

Since kindly Old Burt replaced
Leo at Ebbets Field, the Dodgers have swept 11 of 15 starts. Under the fiery Durocher, the Giants have won nine of 14 games.

The Brooks made friends and influenced people in Flatbush by thumping the Cards yesterday, 12-4, dropping St. Louis into a third place tie with the hustling Giants. Brooklyn remains 5½ games behind first place Boston.

The Giants, who are supposed to have no pitching, got their second straight shutout against Cincinnati as Clint Hartung blanked the hapless Reds with three hits, 5-0. Larry Jensen applied the whitewash the night before.

Close observers of box scores probably were astonished to note the name Walker Cooper in the stolen base column, but it was true. The slow-footed Giant catcher hustled over to second while Herm Wehmeier took his windup. Another incident that does not show in the box was Johnny Mize scoring from first on Willard Marshall's double. The home-run-hitting Mize never has been noted for his speed afoot.

Braves Beat Porates
Vern Bickford, now the league's top pitcher on a won and lost percentage basis, weathered two shaky innings to hurl the Boston
Braves to an 8-2 victory over Pittsburgh. For Bickford it was win No. 7 against two defeats.

Eddie Sawyer's Phillies won their first game for their new manager, 9-4, over the Chicago
Cubs who spoiled Sawyer's debut
Tuesday. Peanuts Lowrey, Clyde hit their first homers of the season for the Cubs. Del Ennis, Eddie Miller and Andy Seminick for the Phillies.

The Boston Red Sox' winning streak finally ended at 13 as Detroit's Dizzy Trout applied the breaks, 13-0. There was no doubt about this one after the first two innings, when the Tigers ran up an 8-0 lead, knocking out Denny Galehouse.

Philadelphia topped Cleveland,
4-3, in a fly ball that bounced off the head of the Indians' centerfielder, Larry Doby.

Frank Shea, a New York
Yankee problem child, needed help from Allie Reynolds in the ninth to blank St. Louis, 4-0. The Browns had only three hits, but Shea was yanked when he walked two with nobody out in the last inning.

Marino Peretti, pint-sized Chicago hurler, performed his specialty—beating his old Washington mates—as the White Sox made it two in a row over the Senators by the same 2-1 score.

Asoria was the first white settlement in the Pacific northwest when fur trappers established a fort there in the early 1800's. This vast region became the Oregon territory in 1848 and today is composed of Oregon, Washington,
Idaho, and portions of Wyoming and Montana.

Young Mr. Stranahan, who carded only 139 strokes for the first 36 holes, added a 69-71 yesterday in the stretch for a winning score that was five blows better than the 284 with which Byron Nelson won the same event at Sylvania eight golf seasons ago.

No Softball On Thursday

Softball yielded the stage to the Fair Thursday night.

No game was scheduled, because that was the time set aside for the big 4-H show at the Fair.
But, the schedule picks up again on Friday with a doubleheader slated for Wilson Field. A play-off of the Baker-Morton game is set for the opener at 7:30 P. M. The Jeffersonville Merchants and Lawson Legionnaires are to play the nightcap.

Next week is to open with a pair of twin bills in the Recreation League and then will come the other annual highlight of the Knobhole League—an All-Star game between teams made up of the younger boys in the fourth, fifth and sixth grades of the elementary schools.

The next eight have only single games booked. The schedule, thus is so arranged as to permit playoff of postponed games.

Fred Pierson, the recreation director, said doubleheaders were virtually certain for all of the nights ahead. Nights when no playoffs are scheduled probably will be filled in with out-of-town teams.
